

Don't Miss "PHeaSt on South"

PHS invites you to savor the season at "PHeaSt on South," Friday, October 6, 7 to 10 p.m.

This year's PHeaSt brings exciting tasting menus from some of the city's most talented chefs and mixologists in a new, open-air venue at the PHS Pop Up Garden at 15th and South Streets. Live music will set the mood for this harvest moon garden party.

Enjoy a delicious night out in this beautiful setting, while also supporting PHS's mission to connect people with horticulture and create beautiful, healthy and sustainable communities throughout the region.

Surprises will abound at every corner at the VIP pre-party, where guests take part in a fully interactive molecular gastronomy cocktail experience with Flair Maestros of Aquavitae between 6 and 7 p.m. VIP access also includes preferred seating and free parking.

Purchase your tickets by calling 215.988.1698 or online at phsonline.org/pheast.

Each ticket to PHeaSt supports the PHS mission to connect people with horticulture and create beautiful, healthy, and sustainable communities throughout the region.

Special thanks to our early committed sponsors, Gessler Construction Co., Inc. and Servalli, Inc. If your company would like to support PHS's gardening, greening and community building efforts, please click here.

President's Note

Every garden I see grows more beautiful as we enter the second half of summer! Take some time this season to explore a community garden or join us at a PHS Pop Up Garden. The vines are topping the arbor at the uCity Square garden, 36th and Filbert Streets, and the crape myrtles are bursting with color at 15th and South. Activities at both sites are blooming, too. Weeknights feature different beverages each evening and South Street offers a Guest Chef Series on select nights. You can also explore community and neighborhood gardens on a Philly Gardens Walking Tour at uCity Square, or plant a sweet little succulent in a tea cup at either garden.
