

The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia and University Medical Center at Princeton: Partners for Pediatric and Newborn Care

University Medical Center at Princeton (UMCP) and The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia (CHOP) have partnered to enhance pediatric services available at UMCP at all levels of hospital care:

- Pediatric emergency consultation
- Inpatient pediatric care
- Neonatal care

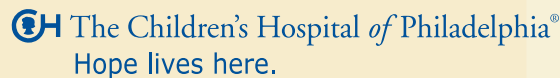

Parents and their children now have access to world-class pediatric healthcare right in their own community at UMCP.

Through this partnership, physicians and other health professionals from CHOP work on-site with the physicians and clinical staff of UMCP to provide exceptional care for your child.

Top-Rated Pediatric Care at the Top-Rated UMCP

Redefining Care.

Hope lives here.

CHOP Pediatric Emergency Care at UMCP

A CHOP hospitalist is on-site 24/7 to consult on emergency cases involving infants, children and adolescents in UMCP's Emergency Department. UMCP's Emergency Department provides outstanding timely care delivered by a skilled clinical team that includes board certified emergency medicine physicians and specially trained physician assistants and nurses.

Pediatric Care Area: Through the generosity of an anonymous private donor, the Emergency Department now has a kid-friendly area decorated with colorful murals.

CHOP physicians serve as a strong support team for UMCP's Emergency Department, which receives patient satisfaction scores among the highest in New Jersey.

CHOP Pediatric Care at UMCP

CHOP provides a pediatric hospitalist on-site 24/7 to care for children and adolescents who are admitted to UMCP's Pediatric Unit. A hospitalist is a physician who specializes in caring for patients in the hospital and who does not have an outpatient medical practice. The new CHOP pediatric hospitalist program supports the work of pediatricians currently on staff at PHCS.
